

BOYS IN KHAKI ATTEND W. R. C.

It is not creditable to Tonopah that the anniversary of the greatest statesman of the republic was permitted to pass without having a single flag displayed. Not even the school house janitor thought enough of the event to impress the memory on the hundreds of children by throwing the starry flag to the breeze. About the only place where the day was observed was in the brokerage and banking offices which were closed.

Gettysburg post, Woman Roller Corps, celebrated the event with a reception held last evening which was attended by 25 men in uniform including soldiers, one aviator and one sailor. Mrs. Margery Combs, the president, opened the proceedings with a short address after which she retired and her place was taken by Mrs. W. H. Collins, the past vice president. Mrs. Labonne presided at the piano and solo were sung by Mrs. J. C. Guener and Mrs. Al Keller. After a musical program the floor was cleared for dancing and a good time was rendered all the more enjoyable by a luncheon served by the ladies.

The address of the evening was delivered by Harry H. Atkinson, of the Spanish-American Veterans, and a poem entitled "Our Soldier Boys are Coming Home" an original of fiction, was read by Mrs. J. H. Champlin, the composer.

ST. PIERRE OPENS HIS NEW STORE

Walter St. Pierre, the bootery man has opened his new store at the corner of Main street and Brougher avenue, opposite the Mizpah hotel, where he proposes to keep the very latest designs of footwear suitable for all classes from the rubber in search of the best digging boots to the lady who seeks the most elegant and fashionable goods that may be found in the leading emporiums of the city. Mr. St. Pierre desires to state that he has an immense assortment coming by express which he expects to arrive this week. These are from the leading manufacturers in the east and comprise the latest offerings of the shoe man's art. These will include the up-to-date novelties and the latest spring fancies.

Mr. St. Pierre will remain here this week during the time necessary to place his stock of goods in shape for display and after that the store will be in charge of Fred LeVigne who has been in charge of the Goldfield store. The repair department is looked after by Norman Drew who guarantees first-class material, quickest service and the lowest prices consistent with the best work.

RETURNING SOLDIER ARE GIVEN HORSES

(Correspondence Associated Press.) MUNICH, Jan. 10.—The returning and demobilizing armies here, in great part, come quietly home, put down their arms and disband without trouble. A small percentage of the unruly element, such as compose the Liebknecht-Spartacus anarchoistic group, however, has made as much trouble as possible, and has shown special fondness for crooked horse deals.

The peasants' council of Munich makes public a report to show that hundreds of returning soldiers have been permitted to keep a horse as a souvenir. The permission naturally does not come from the military authorities but from the underlings, and the soldiers have then put the animals thus secured on the market at ridiculous prices.

One regiment that should have had 800 horses returned with but 80, the rest having been sold, in many cases it is feared, for slaughter—an easy way of concealing all traces. The city authorities recently confiscated 97 animals that had been sold in this underhand way for slaughter. The peasants' council has organized a guard of 40 men to help put down the evil.

THRIFT STAMP DRIVE CALLS FORTH INTEREST

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A broader field to thrift propaganda this year than the mere selling of stamps has been chosen by the national savings organization, and its district and state branches. Thousands of workers are instructed, it was announced today to preach practical reasons for intelligent saving, wise spending, avoidance of waste and safe investment.

To this end, activities of the war savings organization will include publication of circulars teaching thrift, organization of war savings societies, establishment of courses of thrift study in schools and colleges, co-operation with libraries in encouraging reading of thrift material and with industries to promote saving among employees.

Practical thrift, says a guide book issued for war savings workers, consists in these four practices:

First, wise spending preceded by thought to make certain that the purchase gets the money's worth in commodity, comfort, service, recreation or advancement. It implies the balancing of all needs, present and future and of means of meeting these needs, and then spending in such a way as to meet the most urgent needs.

Second, intelligent saving, which includes largely of foregoing ill-considered or foolish expenditures in order to be able to secure in the future either necessities or even more substantial luxuries. Such saving is the opposite of miserliness.

Third, safe investment. With war among nations an absolutely solid and attractive investment and also the most effective mechanism for saving small sums regularly, stress naturally will be placed upon investment in other government securities.

Fourth, avoidance of waste, which is as important in the nation in war as in war.

COMMISSIONER ON LEGISLATION

(By Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—Secretary Baker announced the appointment today of Edwin Baker, of Houston, Texas, as chairman of the "liquidation commission" to liquidate business and financial affairs of the American army in England and France.

BURGLARS SCHOOL FOUND BY POLICE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12.—With the arrest of George Ward, said by the police to be an ex-convict, and of John Hesse, 29 years old, and George Gallagher, 22 years old, his alleged partners and pupils, the police have today laid the main responsibility for over a dozen burglaries committed here in the last few weeks.

Young Hesse, the first arrested, and believed to be a novice in burglary, confessed to Detective Sergeant Finnison and Smith yesterday that he had performed a number of the burglaries under the direction of Ward.

Ward, the next one arrested, is about 30 years old, although he gave his age as 25. He is a "twisting" having been sent to San Quentin for five years, and to Folsom for two and a half years for burglary, the police assert. He was recently paroled on good behavior from Folsom, and recommended his career at once, the police believe.

A school of burglary was conducted by Ward, the veteran leader of the gang, the police state. The Hesse had was his especial charge, and the trifling nature of several of the recent thefts of the group is accounted for by the supposition that he was "trying out" his newly-found skill, and getting into trim for a "regular job."

"LOST" MOTORIST DISCOVERS SELF

Val Calha, driver of Joe Francisco's motor truck, is safe and sound and not waiting for anybody to come along with the Good Samaritan act. During his absence he has kept in communication with the Tonopah Machinery company, for which he was hauling pipe out of the Reese River country and that concern knew he was delayed by the storm while waiting for the arrival of a new axle to enable him to complete his journey to Lone. The pipe is intended for use in the MacNamara mine and will be here in the course of a few days after the repairs on the truck are completed.

Of Small Account. Spitting, when one is conversing with somebody whom one regards as one's social superior, does not convey that impression of ease and self-command in one's social relations which many seem to think it does.—Ohio State Journal.

BAROMETER STOPS WIND GOES DOWN

From blowing a 42-mile gale the previous evening the weather switched around last evening until at dark what appeared to have the making of a perfect blizzard came roaring in from the west where the ominously colored deep blue clouds had been baking all through the afternoon and by 9 o'clock the wind was tearing around at the rate of 41 miles an hour, according to the observations of the local weather observer. The wind was not as fitful as the previous night and blew with equal pressure until about daylight when there was a temporary respite. This morning the barometer was rising rapidly which presaged a continuance of the wind but at 3 o'clock the mercury began to show signs of dropping which Observer Asher said meant that the wind would also subside, possibly before dark. Colder tonight is the prediction. The barometer was away above normal this morning.

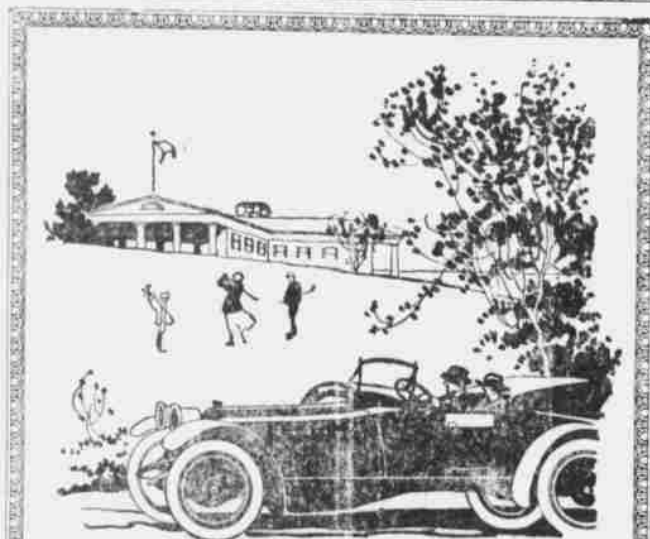

YANKEE OFFICERS HUNT WILD BOARS

(By Associated Press.) REMAGEN, Germany, Feb. 12.—Wild boar hunting has become a popular sport among officers of the American army of occupation in the hills along the Rhine in the region of Remagen. Several hunting parties have been held and several boars were bagged by each party. A number of hunting preserves are owned by wealthy Germans in the vicinity of Remagen and it was within these reservations that the hunts have been taken by permission of the owners. The ordinary army rifle was used by the Americans in the wild boar drives.

PHOENIX MEN PLAN SOLDIERS COUNCIL

PHOENIX, Feb. 12.—The Phoenix trades council signed a call for organization in Phoenix Sunday of a soldiers, sailors and workers council, to maintain a bureau for the immediate relief of soldiers and sailors. The slogan for the proposed organization is "Lay off the hours and not the workers." Organizers claim that returned soldiers are here without means of support and that unemployment in the state is rapidly increasing.

This statement is at variance with a report of the managers of the local governmental employment service, who state that very few soldiers have applied for employment, most of them having gone back to their former places. Returning soldiers are being employed preferentially in all the large Arizona copper camps, including several in which forces are being reduced.

"THE ROMANCE OF TARZAN" AT BUTLER THEATER TODAY

The concluding chapter of "Tarzan of the Apes" from the novel by Edgar Rice Burroughs, the cyclonic drama of a primitive man's struggle against civilization's sinister forces, the marvelous story of blood-dripping adventure and a love that bridged the gap between savagery and civilization, will be the special attraction at the Butler theater today—in seven thrilling reels (beginning with the meeting of Tarzan and Jane Porter, his predestined mate in the heart of the African jungles, the drama takes its followers on the most romantic and thrilling journey through the land of make-believe that the heart could desire. The same magnificent jungle scenery that was featured in "Tarzan of the Apes" is shown in many of the big scenes, and hundreds of wild apes, leopards, lions, tigers, huge snakes and man-eating crocodiles add excitement and novelty to a number of the incidents, also rescue Tarzan from a war party of cannibals and carries him in safety to the seacoast. Added to the feature, the last number of the Rex Dandy travel pictures.

Tomorrow Alice Brady, in "The Saint Sings."

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 12. Extraordinary testimony was given yesterday before Commissioner Hinford in the taking of local depositions for use in the libel suit of Mrs. Nellie Wilson, proprietor of Leaf Lodge Sanatorium, Hollywood, against the Chicago Tribune. A witness declared under oath that last summer Mrs. Wilson told him she was using the sanatorium as a "feint" for shoplifting operations she was carrying on in Los Angeles and nearby towns; that she said the place would be a good one for any of the "gangs" in trouble to come and hide; that she described some of her alleged methods of theft in the stores to him; that she told him she had a fine home here elaborately fitted up with stolen goods; that she asked him to get her a duplicate key to the home of Earl Rogers, "as there were some things there she wanted," and much more testimony of the same character.

The chief clerk of E. H. Ober, top master mechanic at the Tonopah Belmont development company's shops will regret to learn that he has severed connection with that company for a position with the Ingersoll-Rand people which will place him in a position in the sales department with promise of still further promotion. Mr. Ober left this morning for San Francisco to assume his new duties. His place will be filled at the Belmont by E. E. Haddockworth.

Mr. Ober came here from Los Angeles 27 months ago and, previously to that time, was connected with the Goldfield Consolidated at Goldfield.
